LEADERS IN TYPHOID FEVER.

LEADERS IN TYPHOID.

If there is any one disease which more than another cannot be prescribed for by name, it is this one. No disease is more varied in its symptoms during its inception, invasion, and course, and none more liable to spend its force in different localities in the subject. In one case the cerebral and nervous symptoms will greatly predominate so as to take the form of typhus cerebrealis; in another, in the abdomen (Typhus abdominalis)-, and in still others, in the lungs and bronchi (Typhus pneumalis or Pneumo-tion, and even coupled with a dark streak through the middle of the tongue, so strongly indicating Baptism as above described, and the history of the case should show that the patient had come to this state through the strain of overwork and fatigue, I should consider and compare Arnica, notwithstanding this remedy is not generally useful until later in the course of ordinary fevers. Rhus toxicodendron also will come strongly to mind in cases arising from similar causes.

In other cases in which those who, during an epidemic of fevers, had come down after a long strain of night watching and broken rest in taking care of the sick, no
