

Henry Buck

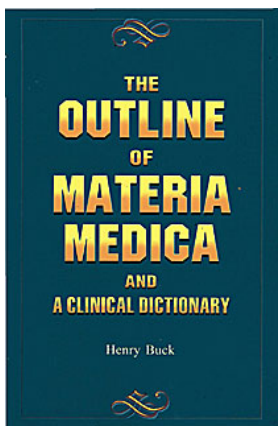

The Outlines of Materia Medica and a Clinical Dictionary

Extrait du livre

The Outlines of Materia Medica and a Clinical Dictionary

de Henry Buck

Éditeur : B. Jain

<http://www.editions-narayana.fr/b1328>

Sur notre librairie en ligne vous trouverez un grand choix de livres d'homéopathie en français, anglais et allemand.

Reproduction des extraits strictement interdite.

Narayana Verlag GmbH, Blumenplatz 2, D-79400 Kandern, Allemagne

Tel. +33 9 7044 6488

Email info@editions-narayana.fr

<http://www.editions-narayana.fr>

ACONITUM NAPELLIIS

UHNEMANN.

MONKSHOOD.

THE morbid condition for which this remedy is prescribed will be known under the term Inflammation; and more especially when combined with Fever. It is the antiphlogistic of the Homoeopathic School, and cannot be replaced by any other known remedy. Dr. Teste states that Aconite has no true analogue. Its primary effect is depressing, tending to lower the pulse; consequently it should not be persevered with after the point for which it has been administered shall be achieved.

Aconite has a special action on the nerves of sensation, and, according to Hahnemann, effects the prompt removal of inflammatory action.

Hartmann testifies to its value in Inflammatory Fever of the robust, and Hyper-excitation of the nervous system.

Noack and Trinks state that it accelerates venous action; lowers the Arterial circulation; and advise its use in attacks of Violent Pain generally. Also in Enteritis and Peritonitis.

Aconite, then, may be useful, according to the best authority, in the following conditions:—

Acute Inflammatory Fever of the Sthenic type, with full bounding pulse.

' Fever, with hurried or intermitting Pulse, with Restlessness; Anxiety; intense Thirst, with desire for cold Water or Beer; Agitation of Mind; Nervous over-excitement; Illness from Fright, Fear, or Anger; also during Menstruation. Fever attendant upon Catarrh, Measles, and Scarlatina; Inflammation of the Throat and Fauces; Trachea and Bronchi; Laryngismus Stridulus; Asthma of Millar; Congestion of the Vessels of the Brain, Eyes, Heart, and Lungs; Bleeding from the nose; Apoplexy; Fainting fits; Pains caused by impeded venous circulation; Headaches from congestion; Ophthalmia, even syphilitic; Neuralgia, especially of the face; Toothache, with drawing, throbbing pain; Fever of Pleuritis, Pneumonia, and Pleuro-Pneumonia; Affections of the left Heart, acting as a of fever. For Measles, he advises its use in alternation with Pulsatilla.

GENERAL SYMPTOMS.

Skin of the whole body, or of parts only, very sensitive to touch. Mvering; Chilly feeling, foliowed by heat; Creeping, Formication, as if insects were running about under the skin.

Numbness; Tingling; or Pricking; Shooting in the extremities; Sensation as if drops of water were falling on the bod BruAse-like feeling over the body, with trembling of the limbs; Tired feeling; Failure of strength; Pp.raly tic weakness; Attacks of fainting; Face pale, or red; Vessels congested; the blood seems stagnant in all the vessels.

Uneasy sensation, such as one feels after a chili, or from suppressed perspiration; Pain, accompanied with thirst; white tongue; redness of the cheeks; Drawing, tearing pains;]?' ains that shift from one part to another'; Pains like. those of rheumatism, about the region of the heart; Pains that seem intolerable, and worse at night, relieved in open air; Pains confined to a small space; Pains increased by wine; Sufferings produced by a , cold easterly wind; Rush of blood to the head; great irritation of the nervous system.'

In Children—Disposition to lie down; Constant crying; Restlessness; Grinding the teeth in sleep; Red rash on the skin; Dry, burning heat; Thirst; Short breathing; Tendericy to start when asleep.

Milld.—Gay; Exalted; Variable humour; MTorose; Depressed; Melancholy; Anxiety; Peevishness, with fine dartings in the side of chest; Palpitation, then headache; Anxious, complaining mood; Wailing; Weeping; Fear; Apprehension; Dread of some accident; Fear of death, or of falling; the slightest noise is unbeaiaable; Music affects every limb—makes her quite sad; everything is done in a hurry; he knocks against others; Raves» jumps out of bed; Distraction of thought while reading; Weakness of memory; he fancies what he has done has been a dream; Intellectual powers diminished; Tendency to fright.

Head.—Vertigo; Sense of swaying in the brain; Vertigo, when stooping or rising from a seat; Staggering—feels unable to stand; on getting into bed, everything seems 'turning round; Confusiön, dizziness, when shaking the head; Blackness before the eyes;

MILLEFOLIUM.

MILFOIL.

Is recommended for congestion of the Head, Face, Heart, and Lungs. Hasmorrhage from various organs; Excessive Bleeding from Hasmorrhoids ; Epistaxis ; Haamoptysis ; Hasma^uria ; Purpura.

SYMPTOMS.

Painful confusion, with rush of blood to the Head ; Burning in the Stomach and Abdomen; Feeling of fulness, and Spasms in the Stomach.

(The whole of the above must be purely empirical; for not a single symptom in the proving seems to produce Hasmorrhage in any one organ).

MOSCHUS

HAHNEMANN

- MUSK.

MOSCHTJS is chiefly useful for affections of the nervous system; Periódical attacks of weakness, almost inducing Syncope; Death-like weakness, with intermittent pulse; Loss of strength; Hysterie fainting fits; Convulsions; Coldness of the body; Sleeplessness from Nervousness ; Vertigo; Dizziness; Confusion in the Head; Nervous Headache; Muscae Volitantes; Spasmodic movements of the Upper and Lower Limbs.

SYMPTOMS.

Mind.—Great anxiety, with palpitation—intense anguish as if he would die; she turns pale and falls down as in a swoon. Secondly—Vexed, scolding mood.

Senses.—Sudden failing of the senses, or absorbed in thought; matic constriction in the chest, foliowed by mucous expectoration; Sudden prostration of strength in the limbs; Feeling of depression about the heart—broods over imaginary troubles; a small swelling like a boil appears on the back of right little finger ; Pressure and gagging in the throat; Eight nostril sore and ulceratèd; Pimple on' the left alse nasi; Headache in the morning.

Naja does good in passive congestion of the palpebral conjunctiva, with» bluish lids and agglutination; also in dyspepsia, with foul, white, or yellowish-white tongue; Rawness of the throat; Soreness of stomach, or pressive pain in that region. Relieves dyspnœa, and prostration in organic diseases of the Heart; also that anxiety with dragging at prsecordia, occurring in cases of great grief; and smarting pains' in the back.

NATEIIM CAEBONICUM.

HAHNEMANN.

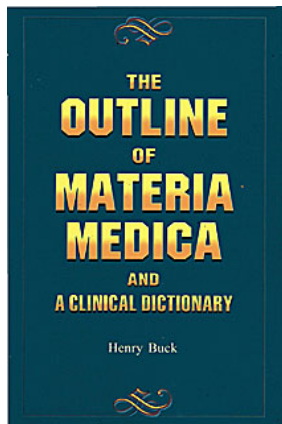

CARBONATE OF SODA.

NOACK and Trinks recommend Nat. Carb. for Rheumatic and Arthritic affections, with contraction of the tendons; Pains in the Muscles and Joints; Weakness from loss of humours Scrofulous Ophthalmia; Ulcers around the Cornea; Myopia; Amaurosis; Muscse Volitantes; and some other affections of the Eyes; Chronic Gastritis; Diseases of the Liver and Spleen; Uterine contractions; Menorrhagia; Phthisis—first stage; Weakness of Digestion; Palpitation of the Heart; Liability to take cold; Weakness of the lower limbs, with paralytic feeling.

SYMPTOMS.

Mind.—Sad; D esponding; Shyness; Dread of men; Anxiety; Eestless; Weary of life; Nervous exhaustion; Starts at the least noise; Ill-humoured; Peevish; Dissatisfied; Unable to comprehend any thing he hears or- reads; Absence of mind—cannot collect his thoughts.

Head.—Dull—feels as if he had slept too long; GKddiness; Headache when tuming the head too rapidly; Stitches; Throb

Henry Buck

The Outlines of Materia Medica and a Clinical Dictionary

472 pages, broché

Plus de livres sur homéopathie, les médecines naturelles et un style de vie plus sain www.editions-narayana.fr