No. 1 — Spring in 1998

Greetings on the issuance of the Homoeopathic associate bulletin "Oasis"

The Homoeopathic associate bulletin, which I started writing with the intention of providing those who are currently taking homoeopathic consultations with a deeper understanding about homoeopathy, is now available. When you actually undergo the homoeopathic treatment, you would realize that - During the treatment of homoeopathy, there is a hard period called the "discharge of poison". I wish this bulletin to be an encouragement to help you overcome this painful time. I named this bulletin "Oasis", bearing in mind that all life forms are enlivened by water, and also that the sump water (= Oasis) is available for everyone, and with a hope that homoeopathy may serve as water for your heart and for your body.

According to the Guardian, the English newspaper (October 22, 1997), Prince Charles is urging an increase in the insurance coverage for alternative treatments. Prince Charles, influenced by his great uncle, Edward VI, has been showing a great understanding for homoeopathy. Edward VI is a man who married an American divorcee, Mrs Simpson, and left England with the famous words "I would abdicate the throne if I could not marry this lady." Among members of the British royal family, I have never seen anyone so humane as him. He was a person who loved nature and harmony. By the way, the primary physician to the Queen Elizabeth I, the mother of Prince Charles, is also a homoeopath. Prince Charles uses homoeopathy and osteopathy for almost all sickness, and places the utmost priority on the curative power of nature.

The sales of homoeopathy and its related materials has in last year (1997) soared three times that of the previous year. England has a homoeopathic hospital run by the government (former royal hospital), and the patients with chronic diseases to whom the modern medical treatment has not shown any curative effects are often switched over to the homoeopathic treatment. They employ both the modern medicine and homoeopathy in a cleverly blended way so that they can be mutually beneficial.

Today let me tell you the secret of how to become healthy. A free mind is very important. We tend to think that there are many hardships and obstacles to overcome in our lives, but the truth is, it is only in our mind that we believe these are hardships or obstacles, and when we accept them with an unprejudiced mind and go with the flow, then we will become more easily overcoming them than we anticipated. Therefore, even more when you feel as though you have been driven into a corner, please do not try-and find the answer in haste but instead take your time.

Many say that once they start receiving homoeopathic treatment, they tend to worry much less about everyday things. Why do you think this is? This is because pain and hatred are not essential to the human being, and therefore, by taking the remedies, they are eradicated. Worries and fear are the main causes of a weakened vital force, and yet it is the characteristic of modern people to worry or to feel fear about things which as yet have not happened. Such a broad-minded approach is needed for people, so that when faced with a distasteful thing or problem they do not struggle with it in haste. "Going with the flow" is to have faith in God.

It is nothing to do with religion, but is a matter of whether or not you have faith. Rather than relying on God for the fulfilment of your desire, you should believe that there is a great flow and this great flow is guiding you towards the great nature, and by loosening all your attachments, you should entrust all things into that flow. You need to have solid courage and preparation to receive whatever happens. Regardless of the nature of the situation, all situations are neutral. It is the people that give a meaning to it and regard it as a problem or hardship. Whatever the situation, we shouldn't run away from it but have to face it square on, and to find the self that is creating the problem.

Hatred produces a lot of purulent matter and ulceration, whilst love produces vital body fluids and unclouded blood and thus makes the blood flow smoothly. The remedy called Nit-ac. (nitric acid) has in itself a constant hatred towards people, and is incapable of forgiving them. Those people who are full of hate will eventually produce an ulceration and cancer, which is the characteristic of Nit-ac. The one who hates someone and the one who is hated by someone will both be deeply hurt. Other remedies for hatred are Lachesis (Bushmaster), Nat-mur. (Halite), Nux-vomica (Strychnine Tree) and Ledum (Wild Rosemary) etc. which are included in the basic kit. Please give them a try.

Do you know what the remedies are doing to you? They are teaching you about a broad and free mind, about a state of mind whereat your attachment is demolished and you can live without anxiety or fear, about a mind which enables you to associate with others with love and without hatred, and about a mind that shows appreciation. When your mind becomes no longer holding onto these trifling things, and as your compassion towards other people and things begin shining forth from within, you will also be able to treat yourself kindly, and your disease will be spontaneously cured.

I believe that the flow of nature in itself is the will of God, and that the homoeopathic treatment is a divine treatment as it will take our lives back into the flow of nature. There are no other natural remedies such as homoeopathy that leads the disease to a cure without accruing any side-effects, and that is capable of producing a huge amount of remedies from such a small amount of material. I have come to know many of you through homoeopathy, and wish that you will also meet many different people through homoeopathy.
